A Day for Quilts – An Outdoor Community Quilt Show June 2, 2020

The Quilting Party is inviting the entire New River Valley to “Cover the Community with love and appreciation” by “host” with a very impromptu Quilt Show on Tuesday, June 2, from 9 am – 7 pm. No rain date.

What ?!?!? I thought we were all to “stay at home”?? We still are - we can “Engage in outdoor activity, including exercise, provided individuals comply with social distancing requirements”.

How ? Hang a quilt in your front window, drape a quilt over your porch rail, hang quilts on a line between two trees in your front yard and show everyone in the New River Valley that quilts exemplify love and caring for everyone! Whether you made the quilt, purchased it online or it is a family treasure, share the beauty of your quilt with the community. Share this event with friends and neighbors on social media and invite them to show their quilts as well - this is a community event. Please share with your friends and neighbors.

Why? To show our medical personnel, first responders, grocery and restaurant staff our appreciation for what they do for us and even us for staying at home and minding the home. Everyone plays a part in making our community work smoothly.

Now gather up those sheltering in place with you and drive through the neighborhood to discover beautiful quilts!!
